

‘Falling in Love – The Outsider’

Anuj Anand & Shafrana Sherifdeen

Falling in Love

“As an outsider, I have been able to analyze almost all the love stories that have taken place with my friends, acquaintances and people around me, over the last few years.

This is just a collection of thoughts and my learning from those experiences, which has been translated into this coffee table book.

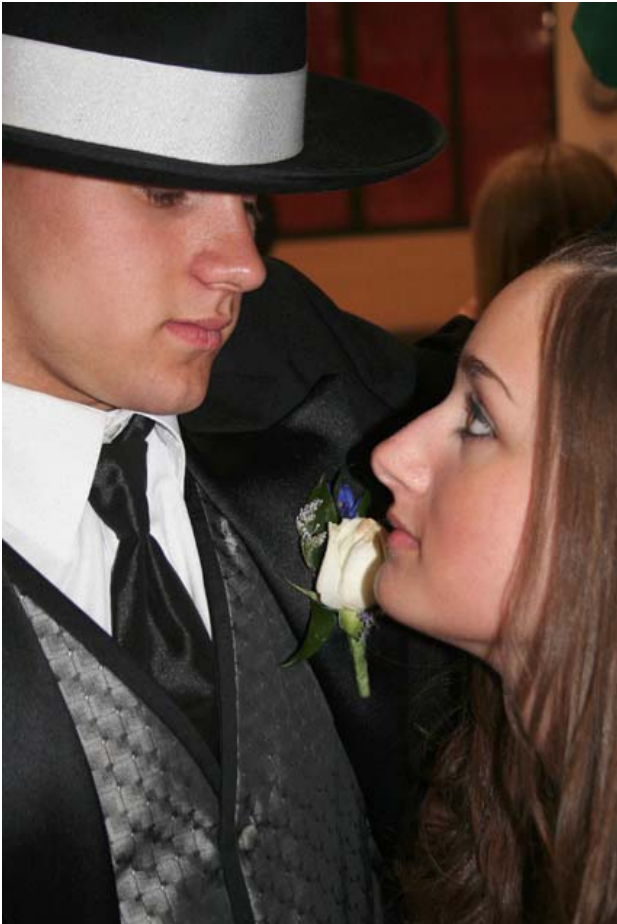

My personal thanks to

Angela Perera, Megha Gupta and Sheen Bhatia hadn't it been for these friends, I would not be able to complete this book.

It just takes a few moments to look into someone's eyes and say to yourself that it might be just another crush, But the mind fails to understand that those few moments are actually etching HOPE into your heart forever....

That is what they say is love

It happens that when you are together with that someone special, you pretend to ignore that person. But when that some special someone is not around, you might look around to find them.

That is the moment, you are in love.

When you are in love, it can be seen in your eyes.

It might be that there will be someone else who always will make you laugh, but your eyes and attention will go only to that someone special. Then, you are in love.

*If you are much more excited for one short e-mail from that special someone than other many long e-mails,
Then you are in love.*

You get a couple of free movie passes for the premiere; you will not hesitate to think of that someone special.

Then, you are in love.

*Although that someone special was supposed to have called you long back, to let you know of their safe arrival, your phone is quiet.
You are desperately waiting for the call!
At that moment, you are in love.*

“Love Knows Not its Own Depth until the Hour of Separation”

When you find yourself as one who cannot erase all the Emails or SMS messages in your phone because of one message from that special someone, you are in love.

Always telling everyone that “someone special is just a friend”, but you realize that you can not avoid that person's special attraction.

At that time, you are in love.

*As every coin has Head and Tails, the same is the case with love,
It has a Good side and the Bad side
Love also a side which is painful, which I have defined as Bad
(only for Book), in reality actually it also has it benefits, as it teaches you a lot.*

Love can be painful when you know, that someone special makes you come closer only to push you away later

It is painful when you realize that, you have a feeling of self hate for yourself and still you go on praying for that person's wellbeing...

Painful to know that, you are becoming weaker everyday just because you cared for the strength of someone special,

*Hard to know that you support someone with all you heart never realizing,
he/she will kick this particular ladder away once they rise up in life ...*

Find yourselves fallen, when you have just given a finger.

Too late to realize that you have been idolizing a woman/ man who doesn't even have a heart also...

It is nothing less than brutal, when you stand by the side of a person through his / her sufferings and problems, but once they are back, all the good deeds are forgotten...

Painful, when you come to know that you are just an option in someone's life when he or she is everything for you

Painful as off, you keep waiting for a few words of care from that someone special, who is lost in his/her world and you just keep on dropping you dignity to the max...

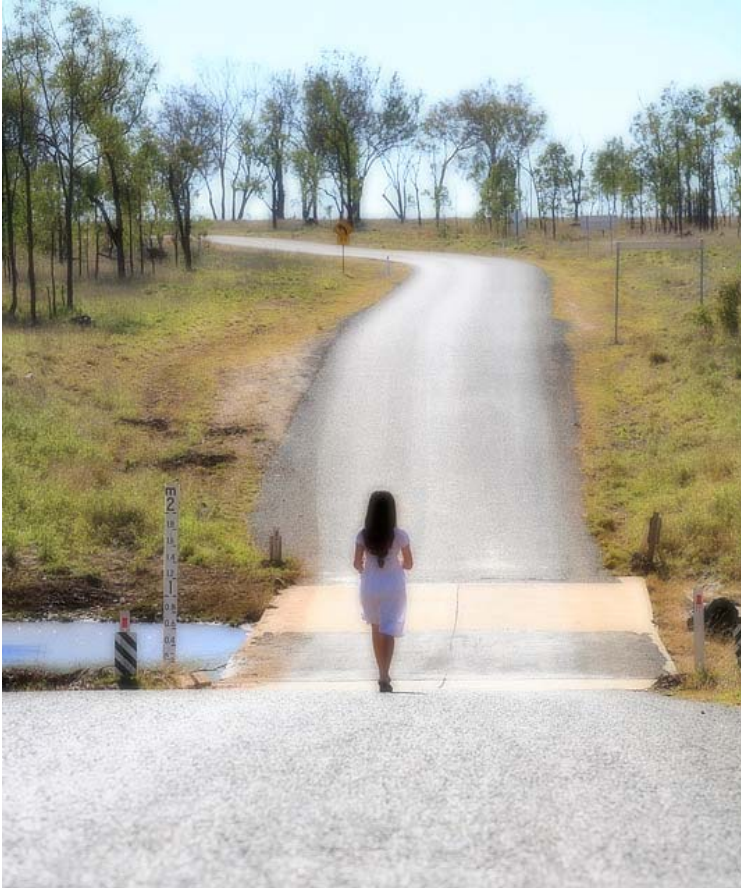

Falling in love – Anuj’s Way

*While you are reading this Book, if someone appears in your mind,
Then you are in love with that person...*

Giving some-one all your love is never an assurance that they will love you Never Except love in return, Have patience, wait for it to Grow in their Heart's
But if it did not be content that it grew in your's

It is not about be pampered, Loved, but about giving away without expecting

Always be vocal in a love relationship, it might be too early to expect the other person to be able to understand your preferences and liking. Thinking telepathy will work, might not work.

Never play the ego game, the moment ego comes into play, then love takes the back seat and the relationship starts to crack.

Love is an opinion, but falling in love is a fact

When in love, You amazingly become a much better person, than you were, before falling in love

When in love, You are aloof from all the bad things in this world and very helpful to others.

Your innocence prevails and pray for good being of every one

I can always empathize with people in love, since they are on the epitome of being emotional

They will never ask for anything, but only your blessing that their love stories should end up in a happy married life.

While walking by the side of the person, you are in love, if might seem strange, but no footprints will be left behind.

"Work like you don't need the money, Love like you've never been hurt, and dance like you do when nobody's watching."

Love doesn't mean that you have to be with someone special; U can keep loving, even when he/she is not with u

Some love stories live for long, but I will say the everyone's love story is a classic in its own way and also pray that everyone's love story should become the greatest love story ever told

*There is one life,
There might be one love story
Or more than one love story
They might work, they might not work
Just be happy with the feeling that you enjoyed every moment, when you were in love. So that you can cherish those moments through your life*
