MASTERMIND

You must have always witnessed that there are some really simple guys in the workplace/ office, who never speak much, have limited friend's circle, limited visibility (physically, their bosses/superior come to them to speak, they are called upon at the most critical juncture of some really important work for their expert comments, views and opinion are treated as the gospel of truth.

These guys are totally aloof from the crowds, lost in their own world, but they have the wisdom of the crowds.

These few elite bunch of guys are the known as the Masterminds in the Corporate World.

The few characteristics, which differentiate them from others, are

- Never interested in the petty office talks.
- Even don't know who sits in the near vicinity of their sitting place in the office.
- Far away from the office gossip, as a matter of fact they are never interested in anyone on the individual level.
- Will never approach anyone with an issue to talk, till they are called as part of their official duty.
- Will rarely be seen in the Office parties and if they are present at some rare occasion it will only be if their bosses persist their presence.

- They have their own world , which comprises of many different hobbies ( reading , writing , keen interest in economics , playing and watching games , food buff , last but not the least very keen drinkers )

Listen to them, when they speak – precise and to the point.

Silence, Loneliness, intellectual curiosity, honesty and sincerity is the Hallmark of them.

Sharp thinking ability with a high level of precise intuition capability, makes them nothing less than the guys with a killer instinct.

Very knowledgeable ( you might find with some book or paper in their hand) , you can speak to them on any subject, for sure they will have some very firm basic concept , ideas and can speak to you for hours, provide they are interested in the discussion.

They are King Makers, but never the King, because they have a firm believe that King Makers are Invisible Emperors in the league of Extra Ordinary Intelligent Gentleman.

Have an amazing ability to analyze things faster than time which is ably supported with the knack of questioning the reasoning / Logic followed by their personal judgement and ability to provide the near to perfect solution to any problem.

Will never trust anyone easily, but will never show in open domain – they are very good actors – this act of theirs can always give a run to best actors nominated for the Oscars in any given year.

Will happily agree to everything that people say to them, but will always do, what they feel is the best and wants to do.

Never live to impress anyone, they are God's of their own destiny.

Have the real power to control things around them and as a issue of genuineness , every game that could impact there life, they will never allow this reality to be known to anyone , but slowly as time passes by , this actuality become more profound.

If they wish they can also control every game that is being played in the office space and slowly their dominance will be unquestionable, but they are not bothered. Smart Alec towards every game that is being played around them.

If anyone wants to seek advice from them, they are the best bet and their advice is like platinum, because applying logical judgement, intelligence and common sense to every aspect of the problem statement , can be decipher in their solution approach.

MasterMinds have always a very clear strategic direction and clear Goal to work & achieve in the Long Run. These people apart from having a high IQ level, their EQ is also good.

They never are afraid of failures, hence are always one –up against their competitors / enemies.

Masterminds have a sense of chronic restlessness, something beyond even willpower, that wouldn't allow him to give up even when going on was no longer endurable.

At times, even if they miss the first round of the competition, they are shell bound to come back with lot of energy and vengeance, series of well planned moves/ tricks which invariably will make the opponent make mistakes and lay down the path for the mastermind to win the game at any cost.

At the time of crisis, Masterminds always work to propel themselves to the next level of growth.

You ask them their life, they might happily give away, but if you try playing mind games and backstabbing them: they will finish you to off till the grave.

The nature of the mastermind 's is like that of Sleeping Tiger, as long as the tiger is not bothered –it won't harm you , but if awoken up from deep slumber, pray for mercy.

Best Friends, Worst enemies.

God bless u and Remain blessed

From the Author's Desk

The idea of Mastermind was conceived some 5 years back, but was not able to write more than 5 lines at that point of time.

Later thought, will use the title "Mastermind" for a crime thriller, if I ever wrote one.

5 years time flew off, in the meantime wrote many other e-books, but in my subconscious mind had an idea that One Day "Mastermind" would see its Day of Light.

13th Feb 2011; Lazy Sunday afternoon started scribbling some stuff, with just few thoughts and within an hour wrote some 10-15 pages and then later drafted into the Word document.

But after the draft was ready, was not happy and had a feeling that it's better to come back after doing some more re-thinking with fresh views & a different perspective.

12th March 2011: - As was not satisfied with the previous write-up, hence rewrote it again, followed by a few edits /modifications in the subsequent weeks.

The Final cut was ready by end - March, but held the release till today, since I wanted to release on my dearest Mom's Birthday 7th April

WISHING YOU A VERY HAPPY BIRTHDAY DEAREST MOM.
HAVE A REALLY CHEERFUL YEAR AHEAD 2011-12
